BLACK WALNUTS

THOMAS: The largest nut of the varieties listed. The tree is the fastest grower of the lot. The nut husks better than average and makes a good appearance when sold in the shell.

OHIO: Good grower, very symmetrical tree. Nut of medium size, very light colored kernel. Husk of nut thick. Good bearer.

Thomas

Stabler

STABLER: The slowest in growth of the varieties listed. Foliage more graceful—about half the size of the Thomas foliage. Nut an excellent cracker. Bears a number of one lobed nuts. Slower coming into bearing than above two trees. Does well where well taken care of and fertilized.

TEN EYCK: Tree a very symmetrical grower. Nuts slightly smaller than Thomas.

ENGLISH WALNUTS

ALPINE: A local variety. The nut is rather rough-shelled and fills quite well. This is a very good variety.

WILTZ MAYETTE: A favorite variety because of its fine quality and clean shell of the nut. A "Diamond" brand.

FILBERTS

These plants attain more the growth of a peach tree. They can be used in small corners in the lawn, as fillers in a nut or fruit tree orchard, as a screen hedge or in any other desirable place where a tree of this type can be planted. They bear early.

- BARCELONA: Large nut of the round type.
- DUCHILLY: Nut large and long.
- DAVIANA: Nut medium. One of the best pollenizers for Barcelona.
- ITALIAN RED: Nut long and very attractive.
- WHITE AVELINE: Nut medium to small. Fine pollenizer.
- JONES HYBRIDS: A group of hybrid filberts selected for their good quality and very promising.
- BIXBY and BUCHANAN: These are the two varieties selected from over 500 plants of the original crosses made by the late J. F. Jones. They have been so advertised by experiment stations and individuals knowing their characteristics that we cannot supply the demand each year.

NOTE: Plant two or three varieties of filberts for proper pollination. If you are not familiar with varieties we will be glad to select the proper plants for you.

NORTHERN PECANS

Beautiful shade trees. They bear good crops here at Lancaster. We are offering several varieties: Butterick, Busseron, Greenriver, Indiana, Posey. All have merit. If you have no choice we will select the variety best suited to your climatic conditions.

HICANS

Hickory x pecan hybrids. We have selected two varieties, the Marquardt and Pleas. The pleas variety is worthy of selection for its ornamental value alone.

HICKORIES

FAIRBANKS: A cross between the shagbark and bittersweet. Due to its hybridity it is a very fast growing tree and early bearer. The nut is of very fine quality.

STANLEY: This is a big bottom shellbark or king nut. Rather a slow grower. Large buds. Takes longer to come into bearing than the hybrids. Nut twice the size of Fairbanks. Add 25c per tree to regular prices.

THE HEARTNUT: We had to turn back a lot of orders for these trees last spring because we sold out of stock in the later part of January. The nut is heart-shaped. Flavor much like a butternut or Japan walnut. The tree grows fast and is very ornamental. Our stock of trees is larger this year, but even so, if you are anxious to secure this specie for your collection, send your order early.

SWEET CHERRIES: For years we have grown sweet cherries expressly for the wholesale trade. Visitors here have been delighted with the way we take care of the cherry trees and with their fine healthy appearance. We are listing them to the retail trade for this fall season. Please have us reserve trees for you early.

BLACK TARTARIAN: Purplish black. A heavy bearing tree. Excellent pollenizer. One of the most popular older varieties.

SCHMIDT'S BIGARREAU. Fruit is very large, deep dark red. Flesh very firm and juicy. An excellent dark cherry.

WINDSOR: Fruit large, dark. Flesh firm. A valuable late variety.

BING: Fruit very large, dark red, almost black; good quality. Flesh very solid and delicious.

LAMBERT: Large, dark, juicy and of good quality. Gaining favor in the west.

NAPOLEON BIGARREAU: Large Royal Ann. Pale yellow with bright red cheeks; flesh firm, juicy and sweet.

GOVERNOR WOOD: An old and favored variety. Large heart-shaped cherries, light colored with bright red cheek.

SENECA: Large purplish black when allowed to ripen. Bears very early here at Lancaster. Fully two weeks earlier than Black Tartarian. An excellent early cherry.

One year from the bud trees. The favorite of orchard men.
